The Abbreviations chapter of the 11th edition of the AMA Manual of Style begins by distinguishing between abbreviations, acronyms, and initialisms and cautions against overuse of abbreviations. Lists of abbreviations and their expansions are provided for academic degrees and honors; US military services and titles; days of the week, months, eras; local addresses; cities, states, counties, territories, possessions, provinces, countries; names and titles of persons; commercial firms; agencies, organizations, foundations, funding bodies; collaborative groups; names of journals; clinical, technical, and other common terms; units of measure; elements and chemicals; and radioactive isotopes. Several new policies: CI no longer requires expansion. In bylines, academic degrees should be reported; fellowship designations (eg, FRCP, FRCPC) and honorary degrees will no longer be included.
Academic Degrees and Honors.
Brenda Gregoline

Academic Degrees.
Cheryl Iverson

Accent Marks (Diacritics).
Brenda Gregoline

Accepted Usage.
Edward H. Livingston

Access to Data Requirement.
Annette Flanagin

Access to Data Statement.
Annette Flanagin
Acknowledging Manuscript Receipt.
Annette Flanagin

Acknowledging Support, Assistance, and Contributions of Those Who Are Not Authors.
Annette Flanagin

Acknowledgment
JAMA Network Editors (ed.)